Faithful, Dependent, and Bold

Acts 13: 4-12 (pew Bible pg. 921)

Over the past few weeks, we have been examining the world-changing church in Antioch. They were used by God to change their city through effective local evangelism (11:19-21), faithful discipleship (11:22-26), mercy ministries to others (11:27-30; 12:25), their multicultural membership/leadership (13:1), and Spirit-directed, church-sent/supported missionaries (13:2-3). Now in Acts 13-14, we see the two commissioned missionaries, Barnabas and Saul (Paul), going out to take the gospel to those who have not yet been reached with the good news.

Today we embark with Barnabas and Saul on their first missionary journey. As we do, we will consider several timeless applications for the mission God has given us to carry out. Their journey involved opposition, tribulations, and many gospel victories. Ours will, too. Barnabas and Saul were very different from each other, but they shared a common call and an exemplarily faithfulness. We are called to the same kind of faithfulness, dependency (on the Holy Spirit), and boldness.

Our call is to go and declare the Word – some will be interested in it.

Our call is to go and declare the Word - some will oppose it.

Our call is to go and declare the Word - some will embrace and believe it.
